PROJECTS

Churn Rate Prediction Web App | Streamlit, Scikit-learn, Pandas | GitHub

- Developed an end-to-end machine learning pipeline to predict customer churn using Logistic Regression and Decision Tree, achieving 88.5% accuracy.
- Performed exploratory data analysis (EDA) on large datasets to identify key churn indicators, improving model feature selection.
- Optimized model performance using GridSearchCV, reducing overfitting and improving generalization.
- Deployed an interactive web interface using Streamlit for real-time predictions and user input handling.

Fraud Transaction Detection API | FastAPI, PostgreSQL, Scikit-learn | GitHub

- Engineered a scalable RESTful API to detect fraudulent transactions using a Random Forest model.
- Integrated ML model with backend using Joblib, enabling efficient inference and low-latency predictions.
- Designed and implemented database schema using PostgreSQL and SQLAlchemy ORM for storing user and prediction data.
- Built modular backend architecture separating ML logic, routing, and database layers for maintainability.
- Enabled real-time API testing and documentation via Swagger UI, improving developer usability.
